National Matching Service

- NMS was founded in 1985, after developing sophisticated matching software to place physicians into residencies in the United States.
- Since its founding, NMS has implemented Match Placement Systems in a number of industries and professions, including healthcare, education, law, and financial services. Some examples are:
 - Dentistry
 - Optometry
 - Pharmacy
 - Canadian Medical Residency Match
- The transition is underway and is effective for the 2023 CASPR Residency Application and Match Cycle which gets underway this spring.

AACPM 's Council of Teaching Hospitals (COTH)

- COTH leadership transitioned last July.
 - Kerry Sweet, DPM completed 2 years as chair.
 - Danae Lowell, DPM, chair-elect, transitioned to chair.
 - Charles Lombardi, DPM was chosen as chair-elect.
- COTH met in September to consider the 2022 CRIP and recommended to the AACPM Board that it be cancelled. The Board approved the recommendation.
 - COTH further recommended to programs that residency interviews be virtual.

AACPM 's Council of Teaching Hospitals (COTH)

- At its October 2021 meeting, and after a thorough due diligence process, COTH voted to recommend to the AACPM Board that a partnership be formed with National Matching Services (NMS) and the majority of CASPR functions be transitioned to them.
 - COTH is participating in the transition and implementation as members of the User Group formed to provide input to NMS and AACPM staff.
- COTH agreed to a request from the college Deans to continue the PGY I Resident Competency Assessment for 2021 and 2022 graduates.
 - It is hoped it will contribute to assessing the impact of COVID accommodations on graduates of these classes.
